HIGHWAY MARKERS IN PICKENS COUNTY, ALABAMA

The present northern boundry of Pickens County is the original boundry seperating the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian Tribes. The Creeks had a town on the site of Tuscaloosa, within the Choctaw Territory and contested the Choctaw title to this land and in 1800 defeated the Choctaws in a battle between the Tombigbee river and the present State boundry, one mile south of Pickenville. The Choctaws refused to give up their Claims and held the territory until 1816 when they ceded the land east of the Tombigbee River to the United States. Now Highway Markers show the locations.

CHOCTAW NATION:

These were the ancestral hunting grounds of the Choctaws ceded in 1816. The Choctaws were one of the four great civilized tribes occuping the Southeast frrom aboriginal times.

ORIGIN OF PICKENS COUNTY, ALABAMA

When Alabama became a State in 1819 what is now Pickens County was in Tuscaloosa County, but the settlement on the Tombigbee River was too far from the county seat of Tuscaloosa County, so a new county was formed December 19, 1820 and named PICKENS in homor of ISRAEL PICKENS, the third Governor of Alabama. The first seat of Pickens County was in the home of Jacob Dansby, who lived where Pickensville now is, with three electoral precincts, one at the home of Mr. Mullins, another at the home of James Heflin, in the Garden community and the third at Ezeckial Nash's

The first settlers were mainly from South Carolina, down the trail from Ditto's Landi Ditto's Landing on the Tennessee River to "Mud Town". L ater named Elyton. Even more settlers came in, with the seccion of the Choctaws land in 1830, causing some of the earlier settlers to move on west, as they had only "squatter's rights" to the land in Pickens County.

Pickensville was the first county seat when Government gave 80 acres in 1830 to establish a county seat. The county seat was moved to Carrollton later. Carrollton was incorporated as a town January 15, 1831, with Robert Jemison as member of the Board of Commission to locate and lay off the town.

The Acts of the State in 1821 established an election precinct at the house of Mr. Cox, near Cole Fire Creek.

December 20, 1824 Bayette County was established from part of Pickens and Tu Tuscaloosa and Marion Counties. In 1832 two Beats on the west side of the County, were added from Greene County.

In 1819, Rev. Lorenzo Dow, and Itinerant preacher, came into what was later - Reform, Pickens County, to try and convert the many vandals and saloons there. He had no result at all in his undertaking, and as he was leaving someone was suggesting a name for the town - he yelled back: "Name it REFORM" and left!

The first white settler in Pickens County was Josiah Tilly, and Indian Trader who came into Tuscaloosa in 1817, to the east bank of the Tombigbee River, half a mile above the rpesent town of Pickensville. He is said to have been born in North Carolina or Tennessee and married in Tuscaloosa County to a daughter of Patrick Scott, who came to Pickens County from South Carolina. Tilly is said to have gone to Texas with the Choctaws.

The second settler was Jonothan York, who lived on the road from Pickensville to Columbus, Mississippi. His daughter, Catherine, was the first child born in Pickens County.

The first male child born in Pickens County was Edward L., son of Stephen P. Doss, about 1818.

The first marriage in the county was that of Elizabeth Cox and Lewis Christopher in February 1820, she being the daughter of Daniel Cox.

The first Methodist preacher in the community was Rev. Ebenezer Hearn, who came in from Tennessee in 1819.

Rev. Charles Stewart, a Baptist preacher was preaching at the Big Creek Baptist in the year 1823.

The early Presbyterian preachers were not permanent ones, though several of that faith preached there in the early days.

SAMUEL B. MOORE, 6TH GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA

Samuel B. Moore was born in Franklin County, Tennessee in 1789 and died in Carrollton, Pickens County, Alabama November 7, 1846. He had received a limited education and settled first in Jackson County, Alabama, where he represented that county in the Legislature as early as 1823. After serving several terms in the Lower House, he was elected to the State Senate in 1828, being President of that body in 1831.

He succeeded Judge Flournoy by election at the session of 1834 and 1835. He held his first County Court in July of the latter named year. He served out the full term of six years. He fills too important a place in the history of Pickens County and the State to receive a mere passing notice, He was State Senator from Pickens at the time of his election. When Governor Gabriel Moore (Governor of Alabama) resigned to take his place in the United States Senate, Samual Moore succeeded him in the Executive office and Administered until December of the same year. Gabriel Moore resigned March 3, 1831.

At the end of his term he returned to Pickens County, which he represented in the State Senate 1834 - 1838, serving as President of the Senate in 1835

He was Judge of the County Court of Pickens County from 1835-1841. He was never married and made his home in Carrollton.

THE FACE IN THE WINDOW

The Courthouse in Carrollton, seat of Pickens County, Alabama was burned on Tuesday, November 16, 1876. A negro - Henry Wells was arrested, two years after as being the one who started the firs. In the meantime a new courthouse had been built.

Henry was, also suspected of other crimes and to save him from the enraged mob, he was hidden in the garret of the new Courthouse. Just at that time an electrical storm occurred and as Henry was looking down at the mob, his face was stamped on the window by the electricity.

Through all the years, in spite of hail and storm, which destroyed all other windows in the Courthouse, that particular pane, with the striking image, remains.

The glass has been scribbed with soap and gasoline as well as other means, but still that pane has met all tests and to this day, (August 1959) the face remains unchanged.

Henry died in jail from effects of wounds he received as he once tried to escape.

METHODIST CHURCH OF ALICE, PICKENS COUNTY, ALABAMA

The church was organized in 1879, during the ministry of the Rev. W. M. Ripper, 5 miles south of Aliceville, a few hundred yards east of the present Aliceville-Eutaw Highway. The church was named the Emory's Chapel and was on the Carrollton demominational circuit.

Another church, on the same Circuit, was located at Olney, eight miles east of the present site of Aliceville.

In 1900 when the Rev. John W. Norton was pastor of the Circuit the two churches were torn down, and the lumber taken to Bethany, six mile southeast of Aliceville and a new church was constructed there. There had already been a Methodist congregation in Bethany, so the combined congregation formed a flourishing church which went by the name of Bethany and remained in the community for about six years.

In 1906, when the Rev. Samuel N. Burn was pastor, the church building in Bethany was sold and the congregation moved into Aliceville and constructed a new church. On Sunday, the 3rd one in May 1909, Bishop H. C. Morrison preached the dedicatory sermon in the new church in Aliceville. In 1923, the Aliceville Methodist Church was taken into the Carrollton Circuit and made a full-time station. During the pastorate of the Rev. J. E. Jenkins, 1923-1927 an annex was added for Sunday School rooms.

In 1944 a building fund was started for a new church building and manse. The first service in November 1948, was held in the new building which cost approximately $45,00.000

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morrow came into the church several years later. She descends from the A. E. Going family and Mr. Morrow was a descen ant of Rev. Thomas Morrow. They being the only ones of the congrega tion descending from one who was present at the organization of the Church one hundred years before.

Rev. John K. Spence who was a well known Presbyterian Minister of Alabama, was at one time an Elder of this church. He being the only person who had once belonged to this church - to enter the ministry. The early churches were a sort of court - where grievance of its members were threshed out.

As was custom in the South, before the War between the States, quite a number of slaves were regular members of this church. In later years, the younger generation preferred an organization of their own The cemetery at BETHESDA, where the older members were laid to rest, is well cared for. A Revolutionary war Soldier - Thomas Lofton lies buried in this adjoining cemetery.

Early Presbyterian Churches were located at Carrollton, Pickensville Reform, Franconia, (2) Bradfords, over Sipsey and Sipsey Turnpike.

BIG CREEK BAPTIST CHURCH

This church is said to have been the oldest congregation in Pickens County and was organized in 1823, at the Garden (Enon), then moved to Aliceville.

Its second organization was at Yorkville (now Aliceville), by Elder Jacob Crocker in 1829.

Then at Big Creek on January 10, 1829, with fourteen members, with Rev. Charles Stewart as pastor; first Deacons were Notley Gore and Dempsey White. In two months, the congregation had increased to twenty members - one - " a black woman, Melly". At that date, slaves were given the opportunity to attach themselves to that church. In the next ten years, there were thirty-four black members, out of the whole list of one hundred and sixty four. In 1848 it was agreed to build a separate building for the black population. This church was the scene of a break in the Baptist denomination, in 1837, the Missionary Baptists continued in this church and the Hardshell Baptist established a new organization.

From the Big Creek Church, a Baptist church was organized in Carrollton in 1846 by Mrs. Candace Bostick, Mrs. Caroline Sherrod, Matthews Lyons and others.

The UNITY GROVE CHURCH was the place of the beginning of an Assembly known as "CAMP MEETING", where people from even nearby states have camped and held religious services for over fifty years.

MT. OLIVET PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

This church was located about sixteen miles west of Tuscaloosa in Pickens County, in the Davidson Settlement of Tuscaloosa County. Saturday, January 6th, 1838, Rev. Joseph B. Adams, organized this church. The fifteen charter members were:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Thomas Wier | William Archibald | Milus A. Davidson |
| Nancy S. Wier | Margaret Archibald | Devey Davidson |
| Wallis Alexander | Sarah Archibald | Alonzo F. A. Love |
| Elizabeth Alexander | Thomas W. Falls | Mary Love |
| Mary Robison | Eliza Falls | Ann Chambers |

Thomas H. Wier and William Archibald were elected as the first ruling elders of this church. Rev. William Williams was the first pastor and served for eleven years.

The seats were arranged so the slaves would have a place to sit in the church.

Mr. Ninian Steel, a native of Iredell County, North Carolina, was one of the early members in 1839 and remained a member until his death, October 15, 1842, at the age of 62 years and his body was the first to be buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. One corner of this cemetery was reserved for the slaves.

Thomas H. Wier was the first clerk of the Church, until his death when Thomas W. Falls was elected to serve in that place. William Archibald was appointed to attend the Presbytery in Tuscaloosa, October 2, 1838. Rev. James Somerville succeeded Rev. Williams as pastor of this Church in 1850, where he served faithfully for twenty-nine years. Rev. Somverville was a great-uncle of Mrs. T. C. Border of Reform. The church building was well constructed and even the wooden pegs in the benches were in use one hundred and one years later.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF REFORM, PICKENS COUNTY, ALABAMA

The SESSION BOOK of the early records of this church was lost, so this record was given by some of the pioneers of this church.

March 20, 1898. Rev. B. F. Bedenger, Evangelist of the Tuscaloosa Presbytery, organized the church at Reform, Alabama with fifteen charter members. As the original list was lost, the following is a partial list:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Mr. & Mrs. G. A. Howell | Miss Lizzie Gibson | Mrs. G. R. Langdon |
| Mr. & Mrs. J. H. Cummings | Miss Lettie Gibson | Mrs. Mollie Dillard |
| Mr. & Mrs. J. W. Rowe | Mr. J. C. Rowe | Mr. Friday |

The children and grandchildren of the above are still doing the work their parents began.

This Presbyterian Church was the first church built in Reform, Alabama. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad had just been completed and was the first railroad in Pickens County. Soon several other Presbyterian families moved into and near Reform, who were:

|---|---|
| Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bouchillon | Mr. & Mrs. J. W. Jones & family |
| Mr. & Mrs. T. A. Rose | Mrs. T. M. Xiesler " " |
| Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Spain | Mrs. C. C. Xiesler " " |
| Mr. Purnell and family | Mrs. S. H. Bouchillon " " |

The preaching services, at first, were held in the school house until the fall of 1899, when the church building was completed. This is a nice frame building, in the center of the business part of town. The church lot was given by Mrs. J. B. Graham, one of the heirs of the Gibson estate.

Mr. J. B. Graham was not a member of this church but attended the services and helped support it.

During the War of 1812, Alabama was still a part of the Mississippi Territory. General J. F. Claiborne announced a full quota of seven Regiments of voluntary enrollment.

The Brigade was ordered to Mt. Vernon, north of Mobile, Alabama "to repel any attack that may be made on any part of the frontier of the Mississippi Territory, either from the Indians, Spanish or English." These troops engaged in the Creek Indian War, and later fought the Spanish at Pensacola and the British at New Orleans.

The Alabama Auditor's report of 1867 shows his application #179 of August 26, in Pickens County, Alabama that he had received an artificial limb, for the right leg which had been amputated above the knee.

FROM "ALABAMA HISTORICAL QUARTERLY" VOL. #18 PAGE #605

"The first relief Act by Alabama in aid of former Confederate soldiers, who were maimed during the War between the States. Artificial limbs were furnished by the State of Alabama to maimed soldiers and sailors who served between 1861-1865 together with a statement of the facts leading to Legislation. The Acts of Legislature required such limbs be named; list of names of the person to whom such aid was extended. This was shown by counties for the years 1867 to 1879, both inclusive, applicants to furnish sworn statement with the Probate Judge of his county, setting forth his age, place of residence, what Company-Regiment or Battalion he served; where and how he was wounded; by what surgeon or surgeons when the amputation was made and that he was an actual resident of the county on February 19, 1867 - also that it was his intention to remain in that county indefinitely; statement to be sworn to before the Probate Judge and be accompanied by an affidavit from someone that the facts were true. When the limb was delivered, the applicant had to sign a receipt that he had received the limb and that it was satisfactory in every way. For an arm - $50.00, for a leg - $75.00 and blinded - $150.00. In 1878 the plan was changed - a flat sum of $75.00 was to be paid every cripple who hby some means or reason - could not wear such a leg or arm and who had not received any previous aid. On totally blind was to receive $150.00, $70.00 for loss of a leg above the knee and $50.00 for a leg below the knee. If mutilation was of such a nature, that no limb could be used, they to be paid $100.00" Approved by the Acts of Alabama February 19, 1867.

In the death of Mrs. Gardner, her husband has been deprived of a kind and affectionate wife--her children of a fond and devoted parent--her servants of a good Mistress and--Society of a useful member. The Church, on earth, has lost a praying member, but the Church Triumphant has received a New Leaf and a New Voice in singing the praises of the Lord.

She was Elizabeth Taylor, born South Carolina 1792, married 1812 to Daniel Gardner who was born March 9, 1792. He was buried in the Gardner's family graveyard at Reform, Pickens County, in the City limits, on Highway 17, about one block south of the Highway. He was born in Fairfield County, South Carolina but moved to this State in 1832. He was married in February 1852. His life was characterized by being honest, upright and consistant in all of his transactions and his death has deprived Society of a most useful member; his parents, brothers and sisters, a dutiful son; his wife of a kind and devoted husband-but gained him a crown of Glory.

"Strangers attend I, as you pass by
As you are now, once was I,
As I am now, so you must be.
Prepare - for you must follow me
Ever stand ready to go."

Dudley Hargrove was an unlicensed Methodist Preacher and became a historic character in 1819 when he went from the Tuscaloosa Quarterly Conference to the Tennessee Conference at Nashville, October 1, 1819. He was one among others expected to be ordained as Ministers but this Conference was pronounced in its standing against slavery and these men were slave owners, so they were rejected. Five years afterward, Mr. Taylor, one of these men was taken into the Conference, but Dudley Hargrove did not live to receive this correction. Family data states that Dudley Hargrove killed 23 bears in Pickens County, also that he served in the Revolutionary War, though nothing has been found to that effect. In the Methodist records, it is stated that all of Dudley Hargrove's children - except Benjamin came to Pickens County with him from Georgia.

Rev. George M. Lyles of Pickens County, Alabama delivered a message to the Baptist Delegates of the Union Baptist Association, held at Big Creek Church in 1863. This Association was composed of churches in Lamar, Greene, Hale and Pickens Counties in Alabama. In this message he referred to the (then) War Between the States:

"First, in a National Point of View, we were at one time the happiest nation on earth, but not content with our position in life, we have become jealous of each other's rights and interests. . . . in a Nation sense, we have sinned as a Nation, God has seen proper to lay the chastening rod, by suffering to come upon us--one of the most bloody wars that American History has ever known."

Rev. Lyles was born in Charleston, South Carolina in 1819. He married in South Carolina and came to Alabama about 1840 and bought a farm near the present Liberty High School.

He was twice married and had thirteen children, in two sets. Two of the second set--Georgia Bullock and B. F. Lyles were living in 1958. He preached all over Pickens County for forty years and in one year was paid only $3.75.

He also was partner with Mr. Stringfellow in a store in Pickensville in 1870. He also worked hard on his farm. He would have his dinner sent to him in the field and read his Bible as he ate.

He trained one negro man to be a great preacher.

Peace to his memory.

JAMES ALSON MCKINSTRY, COMPANY "D", 42nd ALABAMA INFANTRY, C.S.A.

Discharged April 1865. "AVE ET VALE".

To the Editor of the Birmingham News:

James Alston McKinstry, who died a few days ago in Birmingham, Alabama was, at the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861, an ideal exponant of the South, which, in the fashion of miracles, transformed boys into men-inspired with heroic purpose. Among the first of the cadets of LaGrange Military Academy to volunteer in the Army of the Southern Confederacy, it fell to the lot of this regiment to re-enact at the battle of Corinth, Mississippi, a tragedy more fatally misdirected than the "Charge of the Six Hundred at Balaklave." Clad only in shirt and trousers and barefooted, that they might more readily climb up the steep earthwork--of the fourteen who escaped the carnage of the assault and who reached the interior of the Fort, this gallant lad-alone-survived the finishing volley of the garrison. With minnie-ball through his shoulder, another through an arm and a third through the muscle of the thigh, refused to surrender; he found shelter in the trench with his dead comrades, whence with the fall of darkness-he made his escape.

At college, Jim McKinstry was a general favorite and noted as adept in mathamtics. He had not his equal, even in the advance classes and later in life, had he but aspired to fame, he could have found a place in one of our great universities, in this first of the sciences. With that fatal and inexplicable modesty so often characteristic of a genius, he chose the path of life.

"Far from the maddening crow's ignoble strife, he trod, ever in sympathy with his fellows and ever true to his convictions. Requiescat in pace." So may he swwetly sleep that death will seem a dream of life which itself is a dream.

Signed: John Allen Wyeth, New York City, March 4.

OBITUARY OF REV. JAMES P. MCMULLEN OF GORO, PICKENS COUNTY, ALABAMA

by Col. Thomas Lanier of Bethesda Presbyterian Church

Copied from an old church record on file in the Presbyterian Historical Foundation, Montreat, North Carolina.

"In January 1864 he entered the Confederate Army as a missionary to General Baker's Brigade and remained as such in the discharge of this duty until the 14th day of May 1864, in the Camp Bivouac on the march. In this charge on the 14th of May, this great and good man-fell-a martyr to the cause he so earnestly espoused. He fell in the midst of a heavy fire and his God-like soul returned to the God who gave it. He was already ready to administer to the wants of the sick and wounded. The wounded soldiers from the battlefied found in him a true friend and many a soldier will bless the day he was sent to the Army. He had the respect and confidence of every man in the Brigade. His preaching was of example as well as precept and never shall the writer forget the manner in which he applied the truths of the gospel during a protracted meeting, near Dalton, Georgia in the spring of 1864. Early in May, the spring campaign opened and after some heavy fire our army, gradually falling back, made a stand at Resaca, Georgia. On the 14th of May, our Division was ordered to charge the enemy on our front. Here the many and impulsive nature of the deceased could not be kept out of the charge. When remonstrated with he replied: 'Colonel, my Country is as dear to me as it is to any soldier you have.' He was as true a patriot as he was a Christian Minister. He believed conscientiously that the South was right, and that religion, as well as Civic Liberty was involved in the contest and whether he was right--time will tell. Death is a terrible necessity and a dreadful calamity when such men have been sacrificed in the prime of life--in their days of usefulness. May the good fruit-seeds sown by him during his life, take root, spring up and produce fruit."
He married 1838 Martha Leonora Fulton 1817-1869.

"Rev. John K. Spence left Monday, last for his new home in Perry County, Alabama. His new home is pleasantly situated within five miles of Marion, Ala. Two churches have secured his valuable services--that they will be greatly benefited--we have not the shadow of a doubt, and--that his work will be abundantly blessed and that he and his family will be prosperous and happy, is the sincere wish of their many friends here. Few men have left Franconia that were so much missed, not only by the citizens, but by the whole county. OBITUARY OF MEREDITH TAYLOR

Died of cancer of the mouth, at the resident of his oldest son, THOMAS TAYLOR, in Pickens County, Alabama on the evening of the 29th ult., in the 81st year of his age - MEREDITH TAYLOR- who was born in the State of North Carolina, near the Virginia line, from which place his father moved to South Carolina--while he was a child and where he remained until the winter of 1833, when he came to this State. (Ala.) He had been an exemplary Christian for the last forty years and was a regular and consistant member of the Baptist Church, almost since the year 1827--having witnesses in the previous year--in October.

During his protracted and loathsome disease, he often expressed a desire to depart that he might be with Christ. He frequently remarked, to the writer, as well as to others, that he had been a great sinner, but that his trust was in the Crucified, Arisen and Exalted Savior, whose blood he conceived to be sufficient to cleanse from all sin, therefore, his friends and relations who are left to mourn his loss, may not sorrow, as those who have no hope, for as much as their loss was doubled. He died March 29, 1844.

The deceasedwas among the few remaining spirits, who--in the days of the Revolutionary War, stood in the defense of our rights and boldly contended for the rescue of these United States--from the British Tyranny and oppression--in his 16th year--as a substitute for his father--he served in the command under the direction of Col. Lincoln on the Carolina side of the Savannah River, at Black Swamp (now Hamburg) and after three months in the Low Country of South Carolina, at a place called Four Hole.

In the 17th year of his age, he was in the Army under General Greene, on his own account and actually engaged in the memorial battle which occurred at Eutaw Springs, in which the Americans gained an important victory over the British, under Stewart--which really finished the war in South Carolina.

As a reward for his labors and privations, the deceased, as were many of his contemporaries, was spared to see many days to enjoy the many blessings of our free Institutions, so dearly purchased for us, at the expense of the blood of the Whigs of 1776.

He and his departed comrade reaised seven children, five sons and two daughters--all of them, except two, live in this state and were to witness his dissolution. His remains lay in the graveyard of the Baptist Church of the Garden, Pickens County, Alabama, he to wait the shrill summons of Gabriel's trumpet, on the Morning of the Resurrection.

The "South Carolinian," at Columbia, South Carolina will please copy the above.

OBITUARY

MR. J. H. WIER

On the 10th day of July, 1885, at 11:30 P. M., Mr. J. H. Wier died at his home, near Carrollton, Alabama in the sixtieth year of age. Mr. Wier was born in Abbeville, District, South Carolina on the 25th day of August 1825. When he was eleven years of age, his parents removed with him to Pickens County, Alabama and where he regarded as his home, with the exception of a few years spent in Mississippi.

In the War between the States, he served in the Army of the South as a Lieut, in the 40th Alabama Regiment. At the close of that war he "exchanged the sword for the plough."

He married Miss Elizabeth J. Taylor who died in 1881, leaving two adult children. In September 1883, he married Miss Martha P. Archibald who survived him.

In 1858 he made a profession of faith and connected himself with the Presbyterian Church at Enterprise, Mississippi.

As in his secular, so in his church relations, he was modest and unassuming, here as there, he was prompt to know his duty.

His death was a fitting close to such a life - calm and undisturbed, willing to remain if the Lord so willed, but prepared to go without a dread or doubt.
